

Hundreds of creatures rely on wetlands to survive – like me. My name is Charlie the yellow chat and I live on the Capricorn Coast. Use your eyes to spy out other native animals that live and eat in wetlands. How many of each animal can you see?

